Overview

Trauma is the leading cause of childhood death and disability. However, pediatric trauma care continues to pose significant and unique challenges. This two-day national symposium will provide the health care practitioner with up-to-date clinical information for the management of injured children and their families. Current issues will be addressed across the continuum of trauma care.

Objectives

At the conclusion of this course, the participant should be able to:

- Describe current treatment and technologic advances that decrease pediatric death and disability.
- Discuss how trauma impacts the physical and emotional future of the pediatric patient.
- Identify strategic measures to reduce the incidence of pediatric traumatic injuries.
Who Should Attend

This national multidisciplinary conference is designed for trauma surgeons who care for injured children, emergency medicine physicians, other physicians, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, nurses, pre-hospital providers, injury prevention specialists and other health care professionals involved in the care of injured children.

Big city amenities, small-town friendly. That’s Pittsburgh. With a breathtaking skyline, sparkling clean rivers, magnificent architecture, and the LEED-certified Children’s Hospital of Pittsburgh of UPMC.

Named one of the country’s best arts cities, conference attendees can see a wide variety of art from the Andy Warhol Museum to the offerings at the Carnegie Museums of Art and Natural History.

Seven downtown theaters present performances by the world-class Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, Pittsburgh Ballet Theater, Broadway Series and Pittsburgh Opera, while the city’s jazz legacy is preserved at the August Wilson Center for African American Culture. Downtown restaurants and shops are easily accessible on foot or on the “T,” an underground rail system that is within the central business district.

Shopping is convenient and a bargain, as there is no tax on clothing in Pennsylvania.

Conference attendees can jog along paved, tree-lined paths along the rivers. Or they can take a short walk over one of Pittsburgh’s many bridges as they cross the Monongahela River to visit Station Square, a riverfront site featuring a collection of shops and restaurants.

Visitors can experience the city’s beautiful skyline on board a riverboat tour or ride the Duquesne Incline to one of the many restaurants overlooking the city at the top of Mount Washington to experience firsthand what USA Today Weekend magazine named as one of the most beautiful views in America.

The conference hotel, The Pittsburgh Marriott City Center, is the “Official Hotel of the Pittsburgh Penguins,” and is located directly across from the new CONSOL Energy Center and just steps from the heart of the business district.
