You are invited to

The Lost Art of Auscultation

Please join program chairman Abe W. Friedman, M.D., FACC, FACP, FCCM, FCCP for this half-day educational event. You are cordially invited to attend The Lost Art of Auscultation on Saturday May 12, 2012 at UPMC Shadyside Hospital, Herberman Conference Center, 202 Auditorium. The program is designed to educate the practicing physician, intern, resident, medical student and nursing professional in the evaluation and diagnosis of pathological heart murmurs and the proper technique of the cardiac exam. Participants will examine and evaluate patients. Distinguished cardiologists give their individual expertise and assistance to attendees.

Register now for this education program on Saturday May 12, 2012 from 8:00am-12:00 noon. Registration and a continental breakfast begin at 7:00 a.m. The program will be held at Shadyside Hospital in Pittsburgh, PA. The fee is $25 for all attendees.

Objectives:
Upon conclusion of this session the participant will be able to:

- Evaluate and perform a cardiac exam
- Demonstrate better auscultation skills
- Identify pathologic murmurs
- Evaluate specific murmurs and their degree of abnormality

Audience:
This program is designed for internists, general practitioners, family practitioners, cardiologists, OB/GYN, emergency personnel, physicians in training, registered nurses, nurse practitioners, and physician assistants.

BRING YOUR STETHOSCOPE

Program Agenda:
7:00 a.m. Registration/Continental Breakfast
8:00 a.m. The Art of Auscultation
9:00 a.m. Patient Auscultation
Noon Adjournment

To indicate your attendance to this program, please register at ccehs.upmc.com