Overview
For this year’s Magee Alumni Day program, we have an exciting line-up of speakers consisting of past and current faculty and former residents. The program will feature updates on clinical care over the entire age spectrum of our patients. We expect the program to present topics that pose challenging clinical, technical, ethical and financial issues that today’s OB/GYN often faces, whether in practice or in an academic career. The program features endowed lectures – the Cohen, McCall, and the OB/GYN Legacy.

Target Audience
This program is focused on health care practitioners in obstetrics and gynecology as well as in other primary care specialties.

Objectives
♦ Present evidence and review relationship of work force diversity to patient quality outcomes
♦ Describe potential interventions to improve work force diversity
♦ Describe innovative approaches to the screening of anal cancer
♦ Describe the impact of in vitro fertilization on infertility evaluation and management
♦ Provide an approach to counseling patients facing difficult decisions in periviable pregnancies
♦ Describe the impact of the dramatic changes in obstetrics care over the past 40 years on current pregnancy care
♦ List the ways contraceptive use can affect HIV transmission

In addition to the Magee Alumni Day program, there will be a Social Reception on Thursday, October 13 from 4:30 - 6:30 pm at the Pittsburgh Golf Club. Please RSVP separately for this event by Thursday, October 6 to Colleen Gaughan, Magee-Womens Foundation, cgaughan@magee.edu or 412-641-8978.
